

Abstract of the Disclosure

A solenoid valve, in particular for limiting the pressure of a fluid, with a flat armature is mounted with an axial gap to a pole core. This pole core is installed in a 5 housing of the solenoid valve and is stressed from both faces with the same fluid pressure.